MASS-MEETING TO GATHER AT EIGHT O'CLOCK TONIGHT

Men Will Argue for Sounder Business Basis for Administration of City Affairs

NO SET SPEECHES ARE PLANNED

Idea of MacMillan's Supporters Is that It Should Not Be a Cut and Dried Affair

FORM PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

It Is Expected a Committee Will Be Named and a Progressive Platform Will Be Drawn

Much interest is being manifested in tonight's nonpartisan mass-meeting to consider the candidacy of Dan MacMillan for mayor. The meeting was the chief topic of conversation about the city today. Word came from the north side that the people of that section are following the movement closely and will be well represented. Reports from all the outlying wards indicate a good attendance.

Judging from talk about town today the men who are dissatisfied with recent conditions affecting mayoralty contests and who want a "new broom" are pretty well solidified in favor of D. G. MacMillan. They feel that while other cities of this class have progressed in the form of their governmental machinery and their administration policies, trending constantly toward modern business methods, La Crosse is using the same machinery, the same methods and getting no better results than thirty years ago.

One Man's Views

"I believe every man in LaCrosse who thinks he is paying too much taxes for what he is getting should be there tonight," said one man who says he will be heard on the floor of the meeting tonight.

This man said he preferred not to have his name used because he was not a set speaker, the plan of the meeting being to make it democratic, open to all the friends of better and more economical government. He continued his interview as follows:

"Every man who feels that the city hall has not been frank with him, that his suggestions and complaints have not been listened to with courtesy and patience, should be at the meeting.

"Every man who feels that he has seen the city money wasted, that city business has been done loosely, that city employes have not always worked hard for the interests of citizens, should be there.

'Every man who wouldn't want his own business run as the city business has been run should be there.

"Every man who believes that the city has been liberal in raising taxes and careless in spending them should be there."

The indications are that there are a great many citizens who feel some or all of these things, and that they will be on hand to lend the encouragement of their presence to the meeting.

The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock tonight at the Bijou theater.

Will Organize

It is expected that a committee will be named and the movement will be organized with the view of making a vigorous nonpartisan campaign for a sounder and more modern and businesslike administration of city affairs.

ALDERMAN MARVIN DIES AT HOSPITAL

Ninth Ward's Noted Reformer Passes This Morning as Result of Infection in His Face

SPECTACULAR CAREER IN COUNCIL

Feared by Lawless Element in the City, His Life Was Twice Threatened

George B. Marvin, Jr., noted reform alderman from the Ninth ward, died at the La Crosse hospital at 9:30 this morning, after an illness of just a week with blood poisoning. The infection resulted from scratching a pimple on his lower lip.

The alderman's death has been expected since he arrived in La Crosse from San Diego, Cal., last Saturday afternoon. At that time the poisoning had spread over the lower part of his face and he was in great pain. Although taken at once to the hospital and given every care, physicians' skill was unable to check the advance of the malady.

Was Spectacular Figure

Mr. Marvin was one of the most spectaucular figures in the city council during his five years of service. He was a constant enemy of vice and grew to be one of the men most feared by the lawless element in the city.

Twice his life was threatened anonymous letters, and for a time he went armed to repel any attempts to make good the threats. His office windows several times have been smashed by stones thrown at night, during some of his fights against wine rooms and similar violations of city ordinances.

Mr. Marvin was a republican, although he confessed to strong prohibition tendencies. He was one of the most prominent members of the Public Welfare league, a reform organization, and was always in the front of every movement started to clean up the city morally.

Born in Illinois

George B. Marvin, Jr., was born April 6, 1866, in Huntley, Ill. He came to La Crosse in 1884, and entered the insurance department of the Exchange State bank on the north side. In 1899 he entered the insurance and real estate field for himself, and was successful from the start. In 1893 he married Miss Ida Colvin of Mitchell, S. D., who survives him. They were the parents of four children, Clayton, May, Frances and Lucile.

Mr. Marvin was just completing his fifth year of his service in the common council and was preparing to retire from public service. It was his intention to remove to California, where he has been looking over the ground, for the last two months.

Mr. Marvin was a deason of the Tabernacle Baptist church, and one of the founders of the church organization. He was also a member of the Knights of Pythias, Independent Order of Foresters and Mystic Workers lodges. He had taken one degree in Masonry.

Father Survives

Mr. Marvin is survived by his father, who lives in the west, two brothers, Henry and Harold, and two sisters, Mrs. Clara Blanchard, 612 Rose street, and Mrs. Winnie Dawson, Chicago. His mother died several years ago.

When the news of Alderman Marvin's death became public this morning, flags on city structures all over the city were ordered to half-mast. Mayor Dengler appointed a committee consisting of Aldermen B. C. Smith, P. W. Mahoney and Adam Kroner to make arrangements for the council's participation in the funeral. It is planned to have the alderman's associates in the city government attend the funeral in a body.

The grief stricken family had made no funeral arrangements at 3:30 this afternoon. Relatives have been notified and no date will be set until they have been heard from.

PREDICTS SHOW CENSOR

CHICAGO, March 11.—Censorship of the phrasing of popular songs that tend toward the suggestive, state inspection of cabaret performances and cafe entertainments, and a law compelling stage costumes to conform to at least liberal interpretations of decency. These are some of the reforms that will be demanded of the Illinois legislature as a result of the senate investigation into the causes of white slavery, Lieut. Gov. O'Hara prophesied today. They will supplement, in the committee's mind, the bill already introduced for a minimum wage law, for women.

PENY SOLDIERS SUFFER

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Absolute denial of the report that soldiers now encamped at Texas City, eight miles from Galveston, Texas, were suffering because of the unhealthful location of the camp was made by Secretary of War Garrison and Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, today. Major General Wood submitted to the secretary a report from General Carter, in command of the Fifth brigade, declaring that the sick cases in camp averaged about eight men to every thousand.

CITY MAY APPEAL VIADUCT ORDER

Committee Meetings Tonight Likely to Develop Strenuous Opposition to Expense

CITY SHARE OF COST $30,000

Does Not Include Damage Claims of Property Owners Affected by Approaches

That the city may appeal to the supreme court from the ruling of the state railroad commission ordering the construction of the Rose street viaduct and that such an appeal will be considered at the meeting of the special streets improvement, finance and railroad committees of the common council tonight, is the opinion of some of the city officials today. It is the belief of these officials that the ruling of the state railroad commission does not make an equitable division of the expense of constructing the viaduct and that the city is compelled to stand more than its share of the burden.

It is estimated that the viaduct will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000, of which the city will be compelled to pay about $30,000. The balance of the expense will be borne by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad company. The La Crosse City Railway company will pay for the paving between its tracks on the bridge.

It is the contention of the advocates of an appeal that the Milwaukee railroad company should be compelled to pay a larger share of the expense. As the matter stands the company pays for the part of the structure spanning its tracks while the city pays for the approaches. The estimated $30,000 cost of approaches does not include the damage to property which will be assessed against the city when the approaches are built. Property owners on both sides of each approach for nearly a block will undoubtedly ask for damages caused by the necessary grade up to the structure.

The fact that the city is facing a financial stringency caused by other expenditures does not ease the mind of the city officials toward the viaduct project to any noticeable extent and it is believed that the committee meeting tonight will be productive of strenuous objections if not an order for appeal.

LAW AFFECTS NEWSPAPERS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 11. State newspapermen were alarmed when they examined the wording of the Soaring amendment to the corcupt practices act, which was signed by Governor Ralston today.

The amendment makes any person guilty of a corrupt practice liable to a fine of from $300 to $1,000, or imprisonment of not more than one year who falsely writes or publishes a statement or cartoon to influence voters. The law does not state that the action shall be taken maliciously as well as falsely to make the writer and publisher liable. The law will go into effect on the publication of the acts of the assembly.

EXPERIMENT WITH CURE

WASHINGTON, March 11. — The public health service today began its initial experiments with Dr. Friedmann's culture for the treatment of tuberculosis. Surgeon Anderson returned from New York with a supply of the culture but without any instructions from the Berlin physician as to the method of treatment or preparation of the culture for injection. Dr. Friedmann has said that exact methods were necessary for the efficacy of his cure.

GOVERNMENT WINS BOUT

CHICAGO, March 11.—The government won the first round in the $10,000,000 land fraud trials today when Federal Judge K. M. Landis overruled objections of attorneys for the defense in the introduction of certain evidence. Counsel for Albert C. Frost and four associates, charged with defrauding the government by the use of dummy entries to obtain Alaska coal lands, sought to bar the admission of documentary proof of the filing of the entries.

NEWS OF VICTORY COMES TOO LATE

Marvin Wins Long Fight in the Courts to Oust Olaf Larson from Saloon

WORD COMES JUST AFTER DEATH

Fight Begun Two Years Ago in the Council Carried to Victory in the Supreme Court

Almost at the time that Alderman George B. Marvin died at the La Crosse hospital this morning, word was received in this city by his attorney, George W. Bunge, that he had won his long fight in the supreme court to oust Olaf Larson from possession of the saloon at 801 Rose street.

Fight Began in Council

The fight began in the council two years ago, when Mr. Marvin opposed granting Larson the license, claiming that it was illegal because the saloon was in a new location. When the council refused to listen to his words and granted the license, Mr. Marvin took the matter into circuit court, Judge Higbee ruled that his contention was right, and declared that the license was void.

Through his attorneys, Wolfe & Wolfe, Larson appealed the case to the supreme court.

The higher court's ruling today was that the license was void because issued contrary to the provisions of chapter 188, and hence that the saloon was a public nuisance. They affirmed Judge Higbee's decision.

Court's Ruling

The court said:

"The owner of property under license for saloon purposes June 30, 1907, may by himself or his tenant, continue its use for such purposes if properly licensed. Thereafter, any person in possession of such premises as lessee June 30, 1907, if deprived of opportunity to continue its use by refusal of the owner to rent to him, destruction of the building by fire or the elements, or the operations of the provisions of the law for the establishment of no-license areas, may, if properly licensed, continue the business in some other location. The defendant does not belong to either class, hence the judgment is right."

FIREMEN TESTIFY

NEW YORK, March 11.—A dozen locomotive engineers and firemen testified in behalf of the demands of the locomotive firemen on the roads east of Chicago and north of the Ohio river for an increase in wages, before the arbitration commission today. All agreed that the work done by the firemen was extremely hard and that it was extremely hard under the present high cost of living for firemen to maintain their families as they should.

WANTS OLNEY FOR POST

WASHINGTON, March 11.—President Wilson is exceedingly anxious that Richard Olney, who was secretary of state in Cleveland's second cabinet, accept the post of American ambassador to Great Britain. Representative Peters of Massachusetts who talked with the executive today about Olney, said that Wilson had thus expressed himself. Up to a late hour today the white house had received no word from Olney as to whether he would accept the ambassadorship.

SAYS MERCHANTS LACK CONSCIENCE

Barratt O'Hara Scores Chicago State Street Men for Indifference to Girls' Plight

COINED LABOR INTO BIG PROFITS

Says Chief Work of the Probe Has Been to Tear Mask of Benevolence from Employers

CHICAGO, March 11.—Millionaire employers of young girls, who have testified before the Illinois senate white slavery investigating committee that they see no connection between low wages and prostitution either have very elastic consciences, or no conscience at all.

Lieutenant Governor Barratt O'Hara, head of the senate white slave probers, today made this comment after the committee had taken an adjournment for a few days, the reconvening of the state legislature making it inadvisable to meet today.

"That starvation wages have been coined into enormous profits for millionaire employers has been proven conclusively by this investigation," said O'Hara. "Deny it as they may, these men cannot convince the public that they do not know that low wages are a prime factor in the ruin of young girls. It is up to them to redeem their reputations as right thinking men by raising the wages of all girl workers in their employ to the 'bread line' they themselves have fixed—eight dollars a week—without compulsion by the state."

The young lieutenant governor believes that Edward J. Lehmann, vice president of the Fair, a million dollar corporation, who testified yesterday, tacitly admitted that big State street merchants had entered into an agreement to withhold from the committee any information concerning their profits.

Lehmann refused to tell the probers whether the big department store men had pledged themselves to such a course. He said his refusal to answer this question was based on advice of his counsel. Henry C. Schwab, vice president and secretary of Rothschild & Co., who followed Lehmann on the stand, admitted that the merchants had discussed the question of refusing to tell the probers what their profits are. With Attorney General Lucy as adviser the probers will meet at Springfield tomorrow to learn what action should be taken to the employers who failed to answer these questions. It is possible that half a dozen State street merchants who refused, will be cited for contempt.

"If this investigating committee does nothing more, it has torn off the mask of benevolent purpose and philanthropy from some of the millionaire donors to charitable institutions," said O'Hara. "It has shown that these men, these highly advertised philanthropists, have reduced to a science the practice of taking full labor value from the women and girls they employ and giving them in return, not only nothing near compensation, but not enough to live upon."

STATE FEELS ADVANCE

MADISON, Wis., March 11.—The high cost of living enters into the maintenance of state institutions, as shown in the senate this morning, when the Roessler bill increasing from $3 to $3.50 per week the state appropriation to counties for the care of insane patients was concurred in.

INTEREST GREETS WELFARE EXHIBIT

Opening Day of Child Welfare Show at City Hall Bring Many Persons to Learn

SHOW SERIES OF GRAPHIC LESSONS

Lectures and Motion Pictures Aid Charts and Models in Pressing Home the Moral

Moving pictures and interesting lectures served to enliven the first day of the Child Welfare exhibit at the city hall yesterday. The exhibit is arousing great interest and the lectures will be well attended, judging from the size of the audiences yesterday.

The exhibit itself is a frank discussion of causes of infant mortality and means to check it, put forward by means of big charts, pictures and models. Among the most striking features of the exhibit is a light that flashes every ten seconds, with the legend above it, "Every time this lamp flashes a baby dies."

Pictures of Slums.

There is also an interesting device illustrating graphically the fate of one baby out of every seven born. The other features of the exhibit are pictures of slum districts and their child-products, and silent object lessons of the result of improper care of babies. There are also photographs showing proper care and its results, accompanied by pointed paragraphs that carry home the moral of the picture.

Last evening's lecture was a discussion of the proper care of a city's milk supply, by S. J. Dufner, state dairy inspector. The lecture was preceded by motion pictures showing the advantage of private care of babies as against the work of asylums, and a wholesomely repulsive picture called "The Fly Pest." There was also a film showing the fight against tuberculosis in big cities, put up in pleasing story form.

"A good milk supply doesn't just happen," Mr. Dufner declared in opening his talk. "People who are producing milk fit to feed babies must know how. It means good clean cows and back of them brains and experience."

Cleanliness Necessity.

Mr. Dufner explained the necessity of cleanliness in the care of dairy cows, and declared that plenty of whitewash and lots of sunlight and fresh air were requisites of good milk supply.

"I want to advise every mother here," he said, "to find out about her milk supply. It may save your baby's life. Go to the city health department and ask them what is the condition of your milkman's herd. They will be glad to tell you. I am sure it is only fair to your child to find out. The only way to get a pure milk supply is to teach the dairyman that dirty milk will not sell. Education is better than prosecution, and the consumer must educate the milkman."

"A good dairyman is a public benefactor and ranks with the doctor and the preacher in his influence for public welfare," declared Mr. Dufner.

Miss Salisbury Talks.

In the afternoon Miss Winifred Salisbury, agent of the Associated Charities and Humane society, made a plea for the inauguration of child welfare work in this city. Miss Salisbury cited instances in her experience in which the need of a helping hand was plainly necessary.

"While all people may be born equally," she said, "they do not all seem to have equal ability to grapple with the problems of life. For various reasons they need the assistance and advice of some one wiser than themselves. It has become necessary for the stronger to guide and direct the weaker."

Miss Salisbury gave many practical hints concerning the problems facing poor mothers, and explained the relation of poverty to the development of children.

A feature of the exhibit which is arousing considerable interest among the patrons is the distribution of booklets on the treatment of children's diseases by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company. The booklets which are being given out by Superintendent Joseph Martin contain valuable hints in the care of babies and young children. They are a valuable adjunct to the home.

This afternoon A. C. Gran, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will speak at the exhibit on the subject of "The Moral Welfare of the Child." Miss Alice Pattee, city school nurse, will follow Mr. Gran with a talk and demonstration to mothers. There will be moving pictures and an address on the care of the eye, ear, nose and throat, by Dr. Elizabeth W. Allison, state normal school physician.

INTRODUCES MINIMUM WAGE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 11.—A bill fixing the minimum wage of all persons in Ohio, except farm laborers, at 20 cents an hour for the first eight hours, and forty cents for each additional hour, was introduced this afternoon by Senator L. P. Cook.

NATION AROUSED BY DISCLOSURES IN CHICAGO PROBE

Demands for Legislation Pour in on Senators and Congressmen from All Districts

QUESTION TICKLISH TO HANDLE

Federal Minimum Wage Law Can Be Construed as Violation of State Rights Doctrine

PROMINENT PEOPLE ASK ACTION

In Interviews Today that Blame Low Wages for Prostitution and Urge Laws

WASHINGTON, March 11.—From every section of the country there are pouring in today on the new administration and senators and congressmen, appeals that they take up the question of the minimum wage for women and girls as soon as possible. The revelations in the Chicago probe, which are parallelel in every community in the nation, have stirred the people to an extent seldom before reached and there is little doubt that the problem will be a really serious one when the regular session of congress opens in December next.

Arouses Nation

There is hardly a community in the nation where investigations are not now in progress. The fact that the majority of the big business men in Chicago have insisted that national and not state legislation will be required to solve the problem brings the subject home to the national legislators. But the introduction of any general bill framed along the line suggested from Chicago, would immediately precipitate the objection of violation of state's rights, and this point, it is believed, will furnish a decidedly ticklish situation that will require diplomacy to solve without embarrassment.

It was certain today from dispatches received from nearly every section of the country that the entire nation has been aroused.

Gaynor Gets Mad

NEW YORK, March 11.—That the real cause of young girls and women going wrong is the low wages that are paid to female workers is the opinion of Mayor William J. Gaynor. The mayor who had beens watching very closely the sensational revelations in Chicago, was asked by the United Press for a statement presenting his views. He prepared the following:

"Yes, the chief cause of the evil is to be found in our social and industrial condition. If women and girls were paid a living salary there would be very few women of the streets.

"I do not say that that would make all women and girls strictly virtuous. I only say that it would prevent them from becoming immoral for pay.

"Here in New York some of those making the greatest noise on the subject are men who pay starvation wages to women and girls. How is it out in Chicago? And in other cities?

"One of the set of men who own three of the biggest department

Women! Women! Register!

To Members of the Equal Suffrage Association:

Every woman suffragist in La Crosse county is urged to register and thus become eligible to vote for state and county superintendents of schools in The spring elections. We are asking for the general suffrage; let us avail ourselves of the limited suffrage we now enjoy. More than half the total taxes raised goes to the support of the schools. We may vote as to how and by whom these schools shall be conducted. Let us not lose the opportunity. UNLESS YOU REGISTER YOU CANNOT VOTE.

(Signed) KATE E. RUSSELL,
Pres. Equal Suffrage Assn.

The Tribune extends the plea to register to all women. Women are vitally interested in the schools, which are but an auxiliary of the home, and they are probably on the average better qualified to vote upon this subject than are men. Women who wish to vote MUST REGISTER. Go to the regular polling place today, the last registration day, and go through the simple formality.

THE EDITOR.

N. B.—The woman who doesn't register will not be permitted to register on election day. (That ought to get 'em.)

VOTERS ATTENTION!

Do not fail to register today.

Unless you register in person on one of the two registration days your name will not be written on the poll lists, and you cannot vote. All of the old poll lists have been destroyed under the requirements of the new election law.

You are not permitted to register by proxy or any other way except in person.

The polls will be open from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. today.

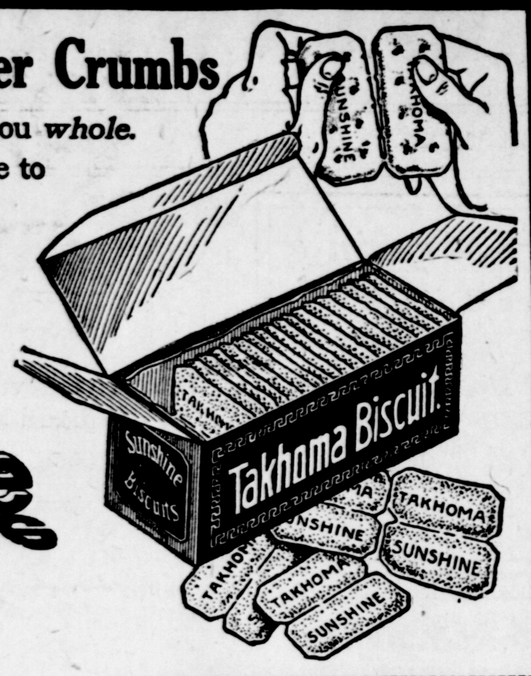

Primary election day, March 18, a week from today, is also a registration day, but if you have not registered before it will be necessary for you to swear in your vote.

In registering you must prove that you are a citizen, either by birth or naturalization. In the event you are a naturalized citizen you must produce your second papers for the election clerks' inspection or make an affidavit that you have second papers. Affidavit blanks may be secured from the city clerk in advance or at the voting booths.

Two Generations Now Using It

Nation's Most Popular Laxative Keeping Millions of American Families in Good Health

There must be genuine merit to an article that has stood the test of two generations of users.

In the field of medicine none has had greater success, nor retained that success to a greater degree, than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is now being used by two generations of people. Its use in families is constantly becoming more general The reason, primarily, is that it has merit. It is what it represents itself to be, a laxative tonic; it does not make exaggerated claims nor use coarse language to set forth its virtues.

It is a medicine, but so mild and gentle a medicine that thousands of mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet, in a slightly larger dose, it is equally effective for grown-ups. It is for any disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels, for constipation no matter how chronic, for dyspepsia no matter how severe, for biliousness, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating, and similar complaints arising from a clogged-up condition of the bowels. It is pleasant to the taste and does not gripe. It can be used with safety and good results by anyone at any age or in any condition of health, and that person's health will improve. Every druggist sells it and the price is only fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Thousands of families throughout the country are never without it in the house, among them Mrs Clara Lewis, Becks' Store, Ky., who gave it to her baby, Elsie, while teething, and says: "It is the best medicine in the world for the stomach and bowels." She writes that she keeps it in the house for every member of the family, takes it herself and that her mother recovered her health and gained flesh by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

ELSIE LEWIS

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

The Poetic Argentine.

Not long ago a young man attached to the Argentine legation at Washington was a guest at a certain afternoon affair when a young woman invited his attention to a couple in a corner who were paying marked attention to each other.

"He is fifty-one and she thirty-nine," said the young woman, "and they have been courting for twenty years."

The Argentine adjusted his monocle and glanced at the happy pair. "Ah," said he; "a romance of the middle ages, eh?"—Lippincott's.

TOMAH, WIS.

The final contest between La Crosse and Tomah as to who will represent this part of the state at the tournament at Appleton will be decided next Friday at Sparta when both teams clash on neutral floor. The supporters of the white and gold are talking seriously of having another special train from here to Sparta to make it easier for the business men of Tomah to attend the game. Tomah is putting forth every effort to defeat La Crosse and according to reports La Crosse feels the same way toward Tomah. The rooting of Sparta combined with the yells of Tomah, we hope, will surely bring victory to the white and gold. Tomah will be represented by Roy Benjamin, as center; Ralph Griswold and Robert Maxwell, guards; Arthur Yaeger and Emery Higgins, forwards.

The Wisconsin University Glee and Mandolin club will be in this city April 3.

Mrs. Charles Mead is suffering from an attack of neuralgia at her home on Kilbourne avenue.

Rev. Jonathan G. Smith, pastor of the Congregational church, has been engaged by the school board to teach several classes in the absence of Miss O'Keefe, who is recuperating from an attack of the grip.

Hanover and Mrs. C. L. Anderson; quotation test.

The debate on the question "Resolved, that the present progressive income tax law in the state of Wisconsin should be repealed," which is to be given by the Woman's Civic Improvement club, has been postponed until a later date.

Word has been received here of the death of Mr. Charles D. Johnson of Oklahoma City, a former resident of Tomah. He left here about five years ago. Previous to that he had been manager of the telephone exchange of this city.

The Raven Lived In a Stable.

Daddy's Bedtime Story— The Raven Is a Wise Old Bird

"DADDY," asked Evelyn, "what kind of a bird is this?" And she showed daddy a picture of a black bird, about the size of a crow.

"That looks to me like a raven," said daddy. "Ravens are not found in many parts of the United States, but there are many of them in England and in some of the western states.

"Ravens are very wise birds, and they can be taught to speak even better than parrots if one will take the trouble. Some wise men say that ravens have more brains than any other birds, but I do not know if this is so, because I have never met any ravens."

"Why don't you get a raven for us for a pet, daddy?" asked Jack, who always wants to have anything he hears about.

Daddy laughed. "Perhaps if you had a raven for a pet you would soon want to get rid of him," he said, "because ravens are very mischievous, and they are great thieves. They will steal anything that is left lying about the house, and they are especially fond of bright, shining articles. I'm afraid your toys and Evelyn's wouldn't be very safe with a raven around ready to steal and hide anything he could pick up in his long, strong bill.

"I think, children, you have heard of Charles Dickens, the famous English writer of stories. He was a man with a warm heart, who loved all living things. He had two ravens for pets, and in one of his books he wrote about a raven which belonged to a poor, weakminded young man. When you are older you may read about it for yourselves in Dickens' interesting story, 'Barnaby Rudge.'

"But I want to tell you about Dickens' ravens. He had two of them. The first was a young bird and was very intelligent. Dickens tells how his raven used to sleep in a stable, generally on the back of a horse. In the stable was a big Newfoundland dog, which was afraid of the raven. He was so much afraid, in fact, that he would let the raven steal his dinner from right in front of his face. But one sad day this wise raven ate some paint which some workmen had left behind them in the stable, and that was the end of the raven.

"The other bird that belonged to Dickens was older and could talk well. Like the first bird, he lived in the stable, and after he had learned the stableman's talk he would perch on the window all day and tell the horse to 'Whoa!' or 'Get up!' even when there were no horses in sight. Mr. Dickens says this raven cared for nobody in the family except the cook, and also says he fears the bird cared for the cook only because he knew she could give him good things to eat. This second raven died one day from eating too much putty and mortar."

SHALL WE SPANK OUR OWN SUFFRAGETTES

Yesterday we spanked the "direct action" suffragettes of England. Figuratively, or rather, by suggestion—the spirit if not the letter of a spanking.

And now come our Chicago suffragettes with the broad hint that it is about time for American suffrage ladies to become militant.

Probably there are "rough necks" in every organization, and perhaps to this element is due the foolish talk indulged in by Chicago women. We cannot conceive of anything like a window smashing parade in this country.

It is true that the parading suffragists in Washington were subject to rowdyism due either to inexcusably lax or wilfully bad police service.

But the men of the United States senate immediately began a probe of the cause; leading statesmen on all sides offered aid and evidence. The manly men of America bitterly condemned the outrage and hastened to the assistance of the women.

How unfortunate, then, the spectacle of women at the senate inquiry hissing adverse witnesses! How fortunate this loose talk in Chicago about American suffragettes becoming militant! In England the women have a grievance. In this country they are winning their fight peacefully, by winning the men to their view. They have made splendid progress. Why spoil it? Why destroy the confidence of the men whom they have won and who are now fighting for them?

We believe these evidences of bad judgment point to only a limited few, the off-balance element that will be found in every large organization. It only goes to show that, even in America, there are some suffragists who should be spanked.

BIJOU MEETING IS IMPORTANT TO ALL

There should be a liberal attendance at the non-partisan mass-meeting at the Bijou this evening. Just what will take place there no one can foretell, but it is pretty sure to be interesting. The men who are responsible for the meeting are not of the orator class. They don't know much about public speaking. They are plain businessmen, and they regard the running of a city as business; and when the city happens to be their own city they regard it as their own business. These men feel that city administration in La Crosse has jumped the track, as it were. They feel that instead of the issue having its foundation in the common good, in public service, it is based upon a personal quarrel. They do not think this kind of a fight can result in good government, no matter which side wins. A lot of these men are republicans and still more are democrats, but they don't take that into consideration. We doubt whether one-half of them, before reading this article, knew that Mr. MacMillan is a democrat. They think they can agree upon him because he is a businessman and because he has shown that he is a good businessman. A clean slate, a new leaf, they want. That is the lay of the land, so no one need expect elocution tonight. It will just be plain talk, straight from the shoulder.

DEMAND THE USE OF WIRE GLASS ON CARS

A curious work has been undertaken by a New York medical society—legislation to compel railways to equip their passenger cars with wire glass, so as to minimize injuries to the public in case of accident. The intention is to make the law apply also to street car companies.

The committee of physicians which examined into this matter declares the proposed law is of the utmost importance to the traveling public. Thousands of persons are injured needlessly every year, say the medical men, who might have escaped had wire glass been used in place of the regulation car windows.

"Every practitioner is impressed with the terrifying number of deaths and serious injuries due to the dagger like cuts of shattered window panes," says one of the physicians. "Railroad cars, street cars, taxicabs, omnibuses, hacks, automobiles and every other carrier known to man are instruments of danger to passengers frfom this common cause. When a window pane breaks the center falls out, leaving jagged margins fixed in the frames. Each point is rapierlike and as dangerous as a Sicilian dagger.

"In a collision of two cars the passengers are thrown against these points, and often frightful mutilation follows the contact. I treated one woman who had 70 cuts of greater or lesser size and depth. Another had his nose almost severed, and persons have lost their ears. Whenever the glass penetrates the tissue, the point breaks off, leaving a jagged piece at the bottom of the wound. These cause inflammation, and other troubles ensue. I have known persons to become blind as a result of injury from broken glass.

"Those accidents are of daily occurrence, but if wired glass were used in the cars danger from this source would be practically removed."

The proposition is to have wire glass with a diagonal mesh of not more than one inch to replace all the ordinary windows in public conveyances of every sort. It is maintained that the added expense of equipping cars with wired glass would be more than saved by the decreased breakage and the reduction of damage suits for injuries suffered from flying glass.

It is to be hoped that Ty Cobb will save some of that $15,000 salary against the time when he will be relegated to vaudeville and get only $10,000.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Independence

I said to the manager, "Really, my friend,
Your play is inexpressibly bad;
I don't see how people can sit to the end
Of a plot that's so threadbare and sad."
And the manager said with a trace of a grin:
"Though nothing that's new we uncork,
To see it they flock till we can't pack 'em in,
It ran for three months in New York."

"Now, here," said the salesman, "is just what you need;
It's the latest conception in shoes;
These cloth top effects are most nobby indeed;
We have 'em in red, brown and blues."
"I wouldn't wear those, though barefooted I trod!"
I replied. "They are certainly pork!"
And the shoe man came back with: "They are a bit odd,
But they're now all the rage in New York."

I'm a stubborn old guy, I am free to admit;
I am fearfully set in my ways;
Insist upon raiment that's fashioned to fit,
And I like my own judgment on plays.
I refuse to look foolish because it's the fad,
I decline to dress up like a gawk;
In matters of fashion I will not go mad
Just because it is done in New York.

—Detroit Free Press.

Demands Percentage

A Collingwood school teacher writes us that she offered to give a dollar to the member of her class who succeeded in getting 100—the perfect mark—for conduct the first week of the new year. At the end of the week the worst boy in the class presented himself to her.

"What do you want, Billy?" she asked kindly.

"De money youse promised for good conduct marks."

"But I promised a dollar to the one who would get 100. Your mark is only—let's see—why, your mark for conduct is only 25."

"Yessum . Gimme de quarter."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mistrustful

A group of brokers were talking about the late James R. Keene.

"Keene," said one, "had a cynical humor. He was also mistrustful—especially mistrustful of his associates in pools.

"Keene once pointed out to me an action on the part of a pool associate that he deemed suspicious. I said there was nothing suspicious about it. But Keene laughed and said:

"'I'll tell you the kind of man I am in these pool deals. I'm the kind of man who, when he finds a spoon in the hall after he has given a dinner party says:

"'Ah, one of my guests had a hole in his pocket.'"

Needed in Court

In the early days of Wisconsin two of the most prominent lawyers of the state were George B. Smith and I. S. Sloan, the latter of whom had a habit of injecting into his remarks to the court the expression, "Your Honor, I have an idea." A certain case had been dragging along through a hot summer day when Mr. Sloan sprang to his feet with his old remark, "Your Honor, I have an idea."

Smith immediately bounded up, assumed an impressive attitude, and in great solemnity, said:

"May it please the court, I move that a writ of habeas corpus be issued by this court immediately to take the learned gentleman's idea out of solitary confinement."

A Hopeful Democrat

In the last session of congress the democrats of the house had a fierce quarrel as to whether they should authorize the building of two battleships, one battleship, or no battleships. Among those who wanted two ships, but who had decided that it was impossible to get them, was an Irish member from Ohio. Expressing his displeasure, he went as follows:

"The party is about to ruin itself over this naval program, but I suppose I'll have to stand for it. I've been a dimmycrat all my life, and I hope to die one if I live."

The Quality of Hardness

Paul Helleu, the etcher of beautiful women, complained in New York of a certain hard quality in even the fairest American faces.

"Some of the most perfect faces I have seen," he said, "possessed this quality of hardness in a marked degree. They reminded me, indeed, of the girl to whom a suitor said:

"Miss Vincent—Annabel—let me prove my love not by words only, but by deeds!'"

"'Well, George,' said the young girl calmly, 'did you bring the deeds with you?'"

The Judge's Epigram

"That wasn't a bad epigram on the magistrate's part," said the somewhat educated tramp who had been convicted for vagrancy.

"What did he say?" asked the tramp's pal.

"Seven days," came the reply.

"That ain't no epigram, is it?"

"I'm sure of it. I once asked a parson what an epigram was, and he said, 'It's a short sentence that sounds light, but gives you plenty to think about.'"—Weekly Telegraph.

AWKWARD CHILDREN

St. Vitus' dance makes children awkward at first, then restless; later comes the twitching of the muscles and jerking of the limbs and body.

A large proportion of children of school age have St. Vitus' dance in some degree but there is no need of your child suffering with this disease, no need of leaving school or getting behind in classes. At the first sign of nervousness, of inability to sit still, sleeplessness or continued irritability give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, one after each meal. The change will soon be apparent. As the thin blood becomes rich and red, the starved nerves get the needed nourishment and the alarming symptoms vanish. There is no danger of St. Vitus unless the blood is thin. Out-of-door exercise, proper food and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills whenever a tonic is needed will keep any growing child in trim.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are valuable in all diseases where the blood is at fault, as in chlorosis, rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers, headaches, and debility due to overwork, worry or nervousness.

Delays are dangerous in diseases caused by thin blood. They do not correct themselves. They get worse. So get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the nearest drug store today and begin the treatment. If you want to know what the remedy has actually done write for our book of cures.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50 at druggists or from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

TUESDAY Story ....n, m m mmb

Again Langham dragged himself forward; the coils of this hideous thing seemed to be tightening themselves about John North. Langham's face still bore traces of his recent debauch, and during the last few minutes a look of horror had slowly gathered in his bloodshot eyes. He now studiously avoided Gilmore's glance, though he was painfully aware of his presence. The gambler coolly puffed at a cigar as he leaned against the casing of the long window at Doctor Taylor's back; there was the faint shadow of a smile on his lips as he watched Langham furtively.

"I doubt if North will be found," said the latter. "I doubt if he is in Mount Hope," he continued haltingly.

"What?" It was Moxlow who spoke.

"This morning I received a brief communication from him; it was written late last night; he informed me that he should leave for the West on the Chicago express. He inclosed the keys to his rooms."

Marshall Langham glanced at Gilmore, who seemed deeply absorbed. The coroner fidgeted in his seat; dismay and unspeakable surprise were plainly stamped on Colonel Harbison's face; Moxlow appeared quite nonplussed by what his partner had last said.

"I was aware that he contemplated this trip West," said Langham quickly. "He had asked me to dispose of the contents of his rooms when he should be gone."

"Did he tell you where he was going, Marshall?" asked Moxlow.

Langham raised his bloodshot eyes.

"For how long a time have you known of Mr. North's intention to leave Mount Hope?" asked Moxlow.

"Only since yesterday, but I have known for quite a while that he planned some radical move of this sort. I think he had grown rather tired of Mount Hope."

"Isn't it true that his money was about gone?" questioned Moxlow significantly.

"I know nothing of his private affairs," answered Langham hastily. "He has never seemed to lack money; he has always had it to spend freely."

"It would appear that Mr. North is our star witness; what do you think, gentlemen?" and Moxlow glanced from one to another of the little group that surrounded him.

"At any rate he is a most important witness," emphasized the coroner.

"North took the Chicago express as he had planned," said Gilmore quietly. "The bus driver for the United States Hotel, where I breakfasted, told me that he saw him at the depot last night."

"I think we'd better wire Mr. North's description to the Chicago police; I see no other way to reach him." As he spoke, Moxley turned to the sheriff. "You get ready to start West, Mr. Conklin. And don't let there be any hitch about it, either."

CHAPTER TEN.
Husband and Wife.

Marshall Langham paused on the court-house steps; he was shaking as with an ague. He passed a tremulous hand again and again across his eyes, as though to shut out something, a memory—a fantasy he wanted to forget; but he well knew that at no time could he forget. Gilmore, coming from the building, stepped to his side.

"Well, Marsh, what do you think?" he said.

"What do I think?" the lawyer repeated dully.

"Doesn't it seem to you that Jack North has been rather unlucky in his movements?"

"Oh, they make me tired!" cried Langham, with sudden passion.

Gilmore stared at him, coldly critical. The lawyer moved away.

"Going to your office, Marsh?" the gambler asked.

"No, I'm going home," Langham said shortly, and went down the steps into the street.

Home—until he could pull up and control himself, that was the best place for him!

He turned into the Square, and from the Square into High Street, and ten minutes later paused before his own door. After a brief pause of irresolution he entered the house. Evelyn was probably downtown at that hour, on one of the many errands she was always making for herself.

Without removing his hat or overcoat he dropped into a chair before the library fire. A devastating weariness possessed him, but he knew he could not hide there in his house. Today he might, tomorrow even, but the time would come when he must go out and face the world, must listen to the endless speculation concerning Mount Hope's one great sensation, the McBride murder. Five minutes passed while he sat lost in thought, then he quitted his chair and went to a small cabinet at the other side of the room, which he unlocked; from it he took a glass and a bottle. With these he returned to his place before the fire and poured himself a stiff drink.

"I was mad!" he said with quivering lips. "Mad!" he repeated, and again he passed his shaking hand across his eyes. Once more he filled his glass and emptied it, for the potent stuff gave him a certain kind of courage. Placing the bottle and glass on the table at his elbow, he resumed his seat.

The bottle was almost empty when, half an hour later, he heard the house door open and close. It was Evelyn. Presently she came into the room, still dressed as if for the street.

"Why, what's the matter, Marsh?" she asked in surprise.

"Matter? Nothing," he said shortly.

She glanced at the bottle and then at her husband.

"Aren't you well?" she demanded.

"I'm all right."

"I hope you aren't going to start that now!" and she nodded toward the bottle.

He made an impatient gesture.

"Marshall, I am going to speak to the judge; perhaps if he knew he could do or say something; I am not going to bear this burden alone any longer."

"Oh, what's the use of beginning that; can't you see I'm done up?" he said petulantly.

"I don't wonder; the way you live is enough to do any one up, as you call it; it's intolerable!" she cried.

Full name and address must be given but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Elizabeth says: "I am troubled with a constant headache which also affects my eyes. My breath is awful, as I have a severe case of catarrh of the head and throat."

Answer: I receive daily hundreds of letters from people who have suffered as you do and who have been cured with the following prescription: Make a wash by mixing one-half teaspoonful of Vilane powder, which you can purchase from any druggist in 2 oz. packages, and add to this one pint of warm water, use this in the nostrils daily to thoroughly cleanse them. A catarrh balm should be used with this. This is made by mixing one teaspoonful of Vilane powder with one ounce of lard or vaseline and apply well up into the nostrils twice a day. If this is used daily your catarrh will soon vanish. It should, however, be used occasionally to prevent a return of the disease.

"C. G." writes: "If you know of anything that will cure dandruff, itching scalp and premature baldness, please let me know what it is."

Answer: For several years I have prescribed plain yellow minyol as superior to anything known for the treatment of diseased scalp. Get it in four-ounce jars with full directions. It quickly overcomes will diseases of hair and scalp and gives new vigor and intense natural color to the hair. Dry it fairly and you will advocate its use for your friends.

"Mildred" writes: "I am constantly embarassed because of the fact of my extreme thinness. I have absolutely no color in my face or lips and I am dull and lifeless most of the time. Please advise me what to do."

Answer: If you are so thin and pale and your lips and cheeks colorless it is because your blood is deficient in red corpuscles. This can be easily overcome by the use of three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets, which can be had from any druggist in sealed cartons with full directions for taking. When the blood is enriched by the use of these tablets your weight will increase, the color will come back into your face and lips, and it will improve your general system so that you will become strong and healthy.

"Edna" writes: "I suffer with rheumatism all the time and I shall be very glad if you can tell me something to relieve me."

Answer: I can give you a prescription which will not only relieve, but will cure your rheumatism. This is my favorite remedy and from the number of letters received from people who have used it proves its value in curing rheumatism. The following is made by mixing well, taking a teaspoonful at meal times and again before retiring: Comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; syrup sarsaparilla comp., 5 ozs.; iodide of potassium, 2 drams; wine of colchicum, one-half ounce; sodium salicylate, 4 drams.

"Morris" asks: "I have suffered with a chronic cough for almost a year, and catch a fresh cold every few weeks. Nothing the doctor gives me helps, so I write to you."

Answer: You need a thorough laxative cough syrup, one that not only relieves but surely drives it from the system. The following regularly used will cure any curable cough or cold promptly. Obtain a 2½ oz. bottle of essence mentholaxene, mix it with a home-made sugar syrup or honey as per directions on bottle.

"Anxious B." writes: "I have in recent years been threatened with appendicitis, but would never consent to an operation. Indigestion, constipation and sedentary habits cause me much suffering. Kindly prescribe for dyspepsia something which you think will cure me and prevent appendicitis."

Answer. The most scientific and satisfying treatment for your trouble is tablets triopeptine; packed pink, white and blue in sealed cartons with full directions. All stomach disorders can be conquered by regular treatment.

* * *

"Nervous M." writes: "Loss of sleep, nervousness, loss of appetite and overwork has made almost a complete wreck of me. I have to work, but can scarcely drag one foot after the other. Please advise."

Answer: The condition you prescribe is prevalent especially with brain workers. Use the following: Compound syrup of hypophosphites, 5 ozs.; tincture cadomene, 1 oz. Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful before meals.

* * *

Farmer's Wife asks: "Will you please tell me how to overcome obesity?"

Answer: Obesity is burdensome. Excessive fat on the human body is unnatural and frequently results seriously. The best and safest method to reduce is to take regularly 5-grain arbolene tablets. They are put up in sealed tubes with directions for home use, and any well-stocked druggist can supply them.

* * *

"Sara C." writes: "I am constipated and have a greasy skin. Suffer from headache, indigestion and some kidney trouble. I wish you to recommend a remedy."

Answer: The best remedy to relieve and cure chronic constipation is called three-grain sulpherb tablets made from sulphur, cream of tartar and herb medicines. Taken regularly the blood is purified, the bowels and liver stimulated into healthy action and a cure established. They are packed in sealed tubes with full directions. These tablets are splendid for children as they do not gripe or sicken.

"Mamma"—"I know of nothing better for bed-wetting than: I dram of tincture cubebs, 2 drams of tincture rhus aromatic and 1 oz comp. fluid balmwort. Mix. The dose is 10 to 15 drops in water one hour before meals.

DETECTIVE IS SHOT MAY KILL SLAVER

RACINE, Wis., March 11.—Sam Perry of Minneapolis, arrested on a white slavery charge, was shot three times this morning by Detective Charles Christiansen when he made an attempt to escape, and is not expected to live. The first bullet struck Perry in the right heel, the second entered the calf of the leg, and the third struck him in the back, passing through the abdomen. The local police had been looking for Perry over a year. He enticed an 18 year old Racine girl to Waukegan and securing a marriage license, told her this constituted a legal marriage. The couple lived in Minneapolis, Kenosha and Milwaukee at different times but last October Perry deserted the girl and sent her back to her parents.

JOE KERNAN SHOWS WELL IN MAJORS

Joe Kernan, former third baseman with the defunct La Crosse Outcasts, and last year star outfielder of the Oshkosh team in the Wisconsin-Illinois league, is cutting a wide swath in big league circles in his tryout with the Chicago Sox. The little third sacker has displayed great form in the early games, astonishing coast fans with his hitting and base running. He is holding the third cushion for the sox seconds, and seems likely to land his major league berth this season, although he has had but three years of professional ball. He has a hard row to hoe with the Sox, however, because of the fact that Captain Lord and Rollie Zeider, two of Chicago's stars, are both third basemen.

WILSON KEEPS POLICY

WASHINGTON, March 11.—President Wilson made it plain today that his policy of dealing with patronage appointments through cabinet officers is still in force. Although he listened with all courtesy to a number of senators and representatives who had patronage matters to discuss, he referred them to the "proper authorities."

TO INDICT FORTY

CHICAGO, March 11.—At least forty men, some of them prominent in business and in insurance circles, will be indicted for arson by the Cook county grand jury, predicted Assistant State's Attorney Johnson today after he had scanned carefully the confession of Benjamin Fink of South Bend. The grand jury investigation will show that the operations of the "arson trust" were nation wide, according to Johnson.

GOMEZ RETURNS BILL

HAVANA, March 11.—President Gomez did not veto the amnesty bill that the United States through Secretary of State Bryan so strenuously objected to, but he returned it to the Cuban congress this afternoon without his signature, accompanying it with a message recommending several changes.

He Filled the Bill.

A stranger when dining at a foreign hotel was accosted by a detective, who said to him: "Beg your pardon. We are in search of an escaped convict, and as a matter of form will you oblige us by showing your passport?"

"Do I look like a convict?"

"Possibly not. In any case I shall require to see your passport."

The stranger, feeling annoyed, presented the officer with the bill of fare, and the latter commenced to read, "Sheep's head, neck of mutton, pig's feet."

"Very good," he observed. "The description tallies. You will please come along with us."—Boston Traveler.

CHILDREN HATE CASTOR OIL, UGH!

Delicious "Syrup of Figs" best for their little stomachs, liver and waste-clogged bowels

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the physic that mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. The day of harsh physic is over. We don't force the liver and 30 feet of bowels now; we coax them. We have no dreaded after effects. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their little stomachs and tender bowels are injured by them.

If your child is fretful, peevish, half sick, stomach sour, breath feverish and it's little system full of cold; has diarrhoea, sore throat, stomach-ache; doesn't eat or rest well — remember — look at the tongue; if coated, give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, then don't worry, because you surely will have a well, smiling child in a few hours.

Syrup of Figs being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics simply cannot be harmful. It sweetens the stomach, makes the liver active and thoroughly cleanses the little one's waste-clogged bowels. In a few hours all sour bile, undigested fermenting food and constipated waste matter gently moves on and out of the system without griping or nausea.

Directions for children of all ages, also for grown-ups, plainly printed on the package.

By all means get the genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna" prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. Accept nothing else.—Advertisement

GIN FOR THE KIDNEYS

Doctors agree that good pure gin, when properly prescribed, is wonderful medicine for kidneys, liver and bladder. The one best prescription in which gin is used is given: "Six ounces good, pure gin, one-half ounce Murax compound, one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu." (Be sure to get the genuine Murax compound in original sealed wooden package.) Any good druggist has it or can quickly get it. Shake bottle of mixture well each time and take one to two teaspoonfuls three times a day after meals.

This should be taken at first sign of kidney trouble, pain in the back, frequent or highly colored urination, scalding urine, rheumatic pains in the joints, puffiness under the eyes, dimmed vision. The serious forms of kidney trouble are thus prevented.

IMMIGRANTS MAKE SOUP OUT OF BLOOD

Employes of the Milwaukee had an opportunity of seeing the Russian methods of filling empty stomachs, when a train load of Russian immigrants passed through the city this morning from New York city enroute to the Canadian border. They occupied coaches of the Grand Trunk line.

When the train stopped at the south side Milwaukee station a trio of the immigrants got off and hurried to the La Crosse Sausage factory, where they purchased five gallons of blood, and the same quantity of sausage, and a large bag of rye bread. An interpreter who was with the party said that soup was made out of the blood, this being one of their principal foods.

The Milwaukee is shipping a great quantity of empty box cars west, to prepare for the heavy traffic east. Duluth and Iron Range engines are being shipped to Duluth.

MACHINIST HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Baushea Pinned to Wall of Round-house by Engine; Is Badly Crushed

While repairing an injector plate on an engine outside of the Burlington shops late Friday evening, A. H. Baushea, machinist, narrowly escaped death, when the engine started to move, pinning him to the wall of the round house.

Bauscha gave the engineer, who was in the cab of the engine, the signal to go ahead a foot or so. The engineer misunderstood the signal and ran too far. The wall of the round house and the track on which the engine stood ran into a "V" shape, and in this way he was jammed against the wall.

He was picked up and carried to the round house office, and later taken to the LaCrosse hospital, where he was attended by the Burlington physician, Dr. Gray. It was found that five ribs and collar bone were broken.

The Burlington railroad is making preparations to send thirty work trains out on the road as soon as the weather moderates. Double track work will be done between Victory and Prairie du Chien, and Crawford and Wyalusing on the Burlington.

Former Governor Campbell of Texas was also a visitor today. Others were Senator Gore of Oklahoma; Representative-elect Kennedy of Connecticut; Senator Johnston of South Carolina and H. W. Dooley of Porto Rico.

This afternoon the president was scheduled formally to receive Judges of the court of customs appeals, commerce court and of the district federal court of appeals.

GARDEN SAGE DARKENS GRAY HAIR SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL

Restores Its Lustre, Prevents Scalp Itching, Dandruff and Falling Hair

That beautiful, even shade or dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. While it is a mussy, tedious task it well repays those whose hair is turning gray, faded and streaked.

Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair and is the best thing known to remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody chooses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time which requires but a few moments. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. It certainly helps folks look years younger and twice as attractive, says a well-known downtown druggist. O. T. Erhart, agent.

Household Economy

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2, by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take one pint of granulated sugar, add ½ pint of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect, and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

He must occasionally wait at table, join the household prayer, look after the horses and read a chapter of the Bible. He must, God willing, arise at 7 o'clock in the morning and obey his master and mistress in all lawful commands. If he can dress hair, sing psalms and play at cribbage the more agreeable. GETS ALTITUDE MARK

PARIS, March 11.—Aviator Perreyon, in a monoplane, ascended to a height of 19,800 feet this afternoon at the Buc Aerodrome, establishing a new world's altitude record.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our friends and relatives for their kindness and assistance during our late bereavement in the death of our wife and mother. Especially do we wish to thank Rev. J. Klaus, the singers and all who sent floral offerings.

HENRY APPEL and Children.

Rebuked

He gave palpable evidence of weighing at least 240 and he towered 6 feet 4 inches into the air. He looked as if the champion heavyweight of the prize ring might go down before him like a reed before the wind. By his side stood a little woman of 5 feet 10 and possibly 90 pounds in weight. She had the meek and subdued look of a woman who had borne much. While they waited for their car on a corner, a passerby heard the giant say:

"Can't you let me have a quarter, Jennie?"

Jennie's voice cut the air like a blade as she said:

"Now, see here, Jim Baggs, didn't I tell you before we left home that 10 cents was all I intended you should have to spend? I sure did, an' I should think you had been married to me long enough to know that when I say a thing I mean it! I think I see you havin' a whole quarter to fool away on seegars an' such stuff! Now you make any more fuss arnd you'll stay at home the next time I come to town!"—Judge.

SPOTLIGHTS

THE REAL THING

For La Crosse Theater beginning Wednesday night, March 12, Henrietta Crosman in her smiling, laughing screaming comedy, "The Real Thing" will be the attraction.

"The Real Thing" was christened "an every day comedy" because it appealed to everybody who had, or contemplated having, a home.

It was written by Catherine Chisholm Cushing and is, in the opinion of many, the biggest success Henrietta Crosman ever had.

"The Real Thing" tells a story of the wife, who, when the children come, forgets she has a husband. Not that she loves him less, but all her time is taken up with her children and her household duties. When he married her she sang, played tennis, rode horseback and was a good pal. As soon as she is married she forgets that she has to hold her husband by the same means she caught him and neglects her own appearance and devotes all her time to the children and the home.

This condition of affairs continues until the good fairy in the shape of a sister, "the widow," comes along and preaches the doctrine that while "it may be criminal to neglect the children it is fatal to neglect the husband" and a really good wife and mother need do neither. So you see there is scarcely a man or a woman to whom this comedy will not appeal.

Miss Crosman's company comprises a number of well known players whose names should be familiar to the habitue of the theater. It is the same cast that contributed so much to the phenomenal success of this play during its long run in New York at the Maxine Elliott theater, among whom are two remarkable children who, in this play, are said to give performances that rival those of Tommy Russell and Elsie Leslie in the original presentation of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," years ago.

A Spelling Test.

The catch question has often been asked, "How many words in the English language end in dous?" The common answer is four—hazardous, jeopardous, tremendous and stupendous. As a matter of fact, however, there are five, and the word often overlooked is hybridous, meaning mongrel or of mixed sort.

How the Mighty Are Fallen.

Descendants of proud Polish kings live a decadent life in one of the wildest mountain regions of Europe, holding fast to inner Galicia. They have become primitive and clothe themselves in suits of blanketing and furs, fashioned at home, with which to withstand the long and rigorous winters. They wear their hair long, live in rude slab board and log huts, and altogether strangely resemble the North American Indian in his semicivilized life today in the American northwest.—Argonaut.

Back of every dispute is the ambition or folly of one man. And as you are not a bell cow you naturally fall in behind.

The average family row is made worse by lack of censorship.

Action Is Needed

You've seen a brackish, slime covered pool of water that probably only needed stirring up, so that the unhealthy surface and stagnant conditions might be done away with—and allow the healthy, clear, crystal-like fluid to create a healthy, clean condition.

Many people are like this pool—they need stirring up—they feel as though a good shaking would wake them up—rid them of that tired, lazy feeling, yet they lack ambition to get in action.

Nine cases out of ten this may be the result of a torpid liver or some slight kidney trouble—this means action is needed. You've no life. You lack ambition. Your food disagrees with you. You need something to activate the sluggish organs. Get a bottle of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy. It has been in use for over 36 years. Made from the purest ingredients, you will find it a most pleasant and expedient means of getting action. We know of many families who have used the Warner Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy for years—it is their only spring medicine. Ask your druggist, he sells it, or write the Warner Safe Remedies Co., Dept. 422, Rochester, N. Y., for a sample.

BACKACHE IS A DANGER SIGNAL

Kidney Troubles, Bladder Disorders, Rheumatism, and Serious Diseases Follow.

There are other symptoms, such as pains in the region of the kidneys, nervousness, dizziness, tired and worn-out feeling, weak bladder, painful, scaldy, or urinary troubles, which are just as dangerous, for the slightest kidney derangement if neglected may develop into the deadly Bright's Disease, Dropsy, or Diabetes.

It is not only dangerous, but needless, for you to suffer, and endure the tortures of these troubles, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly and surely ends all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy known for the cure of kidney, bladder trouble, and rheumatism, than this new scientific preparation, because it removes the cause. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings, cleans out the clogged-up pores, neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter, that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter the poison from the blood and drives it out of the system.

Three doses of Croxone a day, for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome disagreeable urinary disorders, and you can take it with the utmost confidence that nothing on earth will so quickly cure the worst case of kidney, bladder trouble, or rheumatism.

You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. There is nothing else like it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle at any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.

stores in this city, where girls are paid from $2.50 to $10 a week, is swaggering around saying how he is going to spend millions to stop white slavery, as some people call it. My opinion is that he ought either raise his wages or shut up."

Say Law Would Bar Women

MILWAUKEE, March 11.—Forecasting the passage of a federal minimum wage law for women, W. McLaren, manager of the Gimbel Brothers' department store here, today said the passage of such a law would mean the elimination of women as a factor in commercial life.

"Salaries are fixed by efficiency," said McLaren. "If employers are forced to pay women a high minimum wage, men will be called to take their places."

McLaren would not admit that low wages are a contributing cause to white slavery.

St. Louis Conditions Bad

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 11.—"If employers would take more interest in the welfare of the young girls they employ and see to it that their wages were ample, a telling blow would be struck against the white slave traffic," said Hugh M. Fullerton, chief probation officer of the St. Louis Juvenile court. "Undoubtedly the same conditions being exposed in Chicago exist in St. Louis and possibly conditions here are worse than in the Windy City."

Wages Not Cause

DETROIT, Mich., March 11.—"From my experience with the white slave cases in the United States courts I have been unable to find any close relation between low wages and delinquency of women," said U. S. District Attorney Webster today, in commenting on the Chicago investigation. "In only one case in my experience has a girl suggested the low wages was the cause of her downfall."

Call Wages Chief Cause

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 11.—"From the stories told me by fallen women in nine years' experience among them," said Mrs. W. M. Hunt, manager of the Springfield Redemption home, I believe that low wages is one of the chief causes for prostitution in Springfield. The attitude of men towards the social evil is also one of the principal reasons for its prevalence."

Urges Iowa Vice Probe

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 11.—A special message was sent to the Iowa legislature today by Gov. Geo. W. Clark, urging the appointment of a special joint committee of senators and representatives to investigate the causes of the social evil and white slavery in Iowa, along the lines developed by the Illinois committee headed by Lieut.-Gov. O'Hara.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 11.—That the Wagner-Smith investigating committee will take up the question of minimum wages paid to women in stores and factories in this state, and the effect of small wages on health and morals, is asserted here today. Both Senator Wagner and Speaker Smith have followed the Chicago investigation carefully and it is said they have received many requests to turn the light on this subject as strongly as they did on the wrongs of women and children working in factories and telement houses.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 11.—Declaring that he would give all possible aid to an investigation of the white slave traffic, Gov. Sulzer today replied to the letter sent by Lieut. Governor O'Hara of Illinois. O'Hara detailed the revelations in Chicago and suggested a commission to investigate the subject and act with other states to secure uniform legislation against the evil. Gov. Sulzer said: "I will co-operate with the Illinois authorities and with all other good citizens to put a stop to this detestable traffic. I have given the matter some consideration and will now give it more careful attention and investigation."

CINCINNATI, O., March 11.—"It is my opinion that an investigation of wages received by girls previous to their fall would reveal conditions here in Cincinnati that are similar to those shown by the Chicago vice committee," said Rev. John Herget, pastor of the Ninth Street Baptist church, today.

Miss Annette Mann, police court probation officer, said: "I have found through my own investigations that Cincinnati girls are paid the same low wages that Chicago girls are. The average wage for the department store beginner is four dollars. Later she gets five. The girls in domestic service get from $3 to $5 and are much better off, for their board and lodging is provided."

Minnesota to Act

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 11—Minnesota will probably conduct an investigation on white slavery similar to the one being conducted in Illinois. Governor A. O. Eberhart today received a communication from Barrett O'Hara, lieutenant governor of Illinois, and chairman of the Illinois senate committee which is making the investigation asking the governor for his opinion as to whether Minnesota would join with other states to bring about uniform legislation to suppress this traffic.

Governor Eberhart will probably reply to this communication today and will refer the matter to the legislature.

CABINET MAKES NO CHOICE

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The cabinet session today, which supposedly considered appointments, did not result in the sending of any important nominations to the senate this afternoon. It was the general belief that the president and his advisers would name a successor to William J. Loeb as collector of custome at New York today. Dudley Field Malone is regarded as the most likely candidate.

STATE BANKER DIES

RHINELANDER, Wis., March 11.—Charles Chaffee, 73, president of the First National bank here and prominent in Northern Wisconsin industrial circles, died late Monday after an illness of several months. He had lived in Rhinelander more than thirty years.

SENATE IN HUNT FOR BOORISH COP

Determine to Discover Officer Who Refused to Aid Woman Spit Upon by Hoodlums

WASHINGTON, March 11.—To find the policeman who Mrs Patricia Street in sworn evidence says refused interference when a drunken hoodlum spat tobacco in the face of an elderly woman marcher in the suffrage parade, is the determination today of the members of the senatorial investigation commitee. Mrs. Street's story aroused bitter indignation. She explained how she was standing on the running board of an automobile and attempting to clear the way by ineffectually appealing to a policeman. The officer she said made no movement. "This woman—an elderly woman—put her hand out, and brushed back a drunken German," Mrs. Street continued. "As she did so, he had some tobacco juice in his mouth and he spat it on her forehead. It ran down her face.

"I asked the policeman if he would not protect this woman and he said, 'There would be nothing like this if you would stay at home.' I was very indignant and excited that the policeman would do such a thing. I struck the German; I would have hit the policeman if I could. The policeman took hold of my coat and tore it and told me to go home where I belonged."

THROWS OUT PLEA OF THE RAILROADS

MADISON, Wis., March 11.—The supreme court held today that railroad companies cannot plead interference with interstate commerce when enforcement of the state law for adequate service is sought and also held that switching operations in interstate commerce are not subject to state regulation.

The railroad commission of Wisconsin issued an order requiring the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad to stop two passenger trains daily at Cochrane, Buffalo county, a village of 260 people. The county circuit court held the order of the commission valid and the railroad company appealed. The supreme court in sustaining the lower court says the railroad company must give adequate service even if it becomes necessary to put on extra trains.

On the appeal in the case of the Superior-Duluth Milling company vs. the Northern Pacific Railway company the court held switching in interstate shipments were not subject to state regulation.

Falconer, president of the University of Toronto, Canada, will also speak to the delegates.

In a pre-convention address last night to members of the association council, Prof. Maurice A. Bigelow, head of the biology department of Columbia university, advocated sex education of school children as a remedy for the divorce evil and vice conditions.

GIRL IS STRUCK BY MOTOR-CYCLE

Miss Anna Hake Taken to Hospital Following Collision This Noon

While crossing the street at Third and Ferry streets at 1 o'clock this afternoon, Anna Hake, employe of the La Crosse Knitting works, was struck and knocked down by a motorcycle driven by Albert Miller.

Miss Emma Prieve and Miss Nellie Larson and her sister, who were with her at the time of the accident, say the machine was traveling at the rate of not less than thirty-five miles an hour. The girls were returning from lunch, and were walking across the street at the crossing Miller said that he tried to stop the machine and when the young ladies saw him slacken speed, they walked on, and he could not avoid a collision.

Miss Hake was thrown to the ground. She was taken to the St. Francis hospital, attended by Dr. Edward Evans. Slight injuries were found, with the exception of a cut on the head.

KILLS BARTENDER OVER DICE GAME

RHINELANDER, Wis., March 11.—Arraigned in the circuit court today, Peter C. Uliss, a Pole, admitted that he shot and fatally wounded Henry Littlefield, a bartender in the Stacy saloon last night.

According to the story he told the court, Uliss quarreled with Littlefield over a dice game, went home after his revolver and returned to shoot the bartender. Two bullets penetrated the victim's heart.

Littlefield is survived by his widow and two children.

FIGHT PUBLICITY LAW IN COURTS

Publishers Ask Injunction to Restrain Enforcement Until Validity Is Passed Upon

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—Announcement by Postmaster General Burleson that he intends to enforce the newspaper publicity law resulted today in an attempt in the supreme court of the United States to restrain enforcement of the law until after the court passes upon its validity. Attorney Robert C. Morris, for the New York Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin, representing the American Newspaper Publishers' association, applied for an injunction against Burleson and Attorney General McReynolds.

After receiving the papers and briefs, the court reserved a decision in the matter. Solicitor General Bullitt said he did not think the government would oppose the request.

The publishers' action was based on the fact that the secretary of the treasury now has under advisement suits to test the constitutionality of the publicity law, which were argued last December.

SAYS HE STOLE FOR HIS AFFINITY

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 11.—The burglar who confessed to the police here that he had committed eighty burglaries in this country, bringing him $100,000 in loot, today admitted that his real name is Otto D. Owen and that he lives in Chicago. When he was questioned regarding his robberies, he reiterated his statement that he had given to the wife of a Chicago millionaire with whom he was in love about $50,000 of his loot. But no amount of questioning by the police could induce him to reveal the woman's name or anything about her.

TO ATTACK TAFT ORDER

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Intimation that an attack upon the Taft civil service order covering 35,000 third and fourth class postmasters will be made by the democrats was given today by Postmaster Burleson. "While I am personally in sympathy with the order," he said, "I do not think Mr. Taft went far enough. I think a test of merit to determine the fitness of the applicants should have been required."

MARSHALL THINKS HE'LL LIKE JOB

Says He Knows He Is Green but that Senators Help Him to Learn the Ropes

HE DOESN'T LIKE HOTEL LIFE

Says He Is Determined to Live Economically Within His Income

WASHINGTON, March 11—Leaning back comfortably in a big arm chair with his feet draped over a half open drawer and smoking a long black panatella, Vice President Marshall told a United Press correspondent he wasn't sure whether he liked his new job, after a week's experience, but that he "has hopes."

Just a week ago today Marshall became second in command of the nation. Today he said: "I hope to like it after I get on to the ropes a little more. I know I'm a little green and I know others know it, too. But I really think I'll like the job after I learn the rules."

Escapes Tourists.

The vice president was seen in his business office, which he has taken to escape the unwelcome "rubber necking" of tourists. It is in the senate office building. The vice president's gorgeous sanctum adjoining the senate was too public, he explained.

"Nine-tenths of those are letters applying for jobs," the vice president remarked, motioning with a wave of his hand to a stack of letters on the desk. "That's my principal trouble right now in being vice president, receiving applications for patronage. My patronage extends to a messenger, a stenographer and page. I've filled all of those important positions.

"I haven't had any experience as a presiding officer, but all of the senators are so kind and helpful. It's slow work, though—learning the rules.

Stranger to Hotels.

"Living in a hotel is new to me, too. You know I've always been fortunate in having a home.

"Now, as I remarked to Mrs. Marshall the other day, all I've got out of politics is the distinguished honor of being buried from an undertaking establishment if I should happen to die. My father was a physician and we always had a home; even if it wasn't much of a home, it was our own.

"Maybe," the vice president continued dreamily, with eyes fixed in vacancy, "maybe by next winter we will take a house and leave the hotel. I never lived in a rented house until I was governor.

To Be Economical.

"I'm not rich, but I have enough so if anything should happen to me Mrs. Marshall wouldn't have to marry again to keep from taking in washing or something like that. And I'm going to keep what I have and live within my income here. I can do it, I think, with economy. I think a little economy won't hurt the American people--including me.

"If I have a good cigar, can go to a ball game—a good one—occasionally, and have my own friends that I like and that like me, even if they don't agree with me politically, I'll be content."

POLICE CLUB STRIKERS

PATERSON, N. J., March 11.—Police charged a parade of 2,000 striking weavers and dye workers today and a free for all fight followed in which the police used their clubs. The strikers finally broke, and ran after a dozen of their number had been arrested and rushed to the station. Today's demonstration was in charge of Carlo Tresca, one of the organizers of the I. W. W. Chief Bimson swore out a warrant for his arrest, charging inciting a riot. The feeling between the police and strikers is bitter and trouble is looked for.

TRAIN DELAYS TRAINING

CHICAGO, March 11.—Because of poor railroad connections, Manager Clarke of the Brewers today was forced to forego his ambition to start practice at Owensboro, Ky., this afternoon. The Brewer special, that left here early today for the southland will not reach the Owensboro training camp until 3:45 and the ball tossers will have at least one idle afternoon. Manager Clarke issued executive order number one just before deaving Chicago. It consisted of four words: "Nix on the booze."

ENJOINS ELECTRICAL STRIKERS

CHICAGO, March 11.—Federal Judge Carpenter today granted a permanent injunction, prohibiting the two Chicago locals of the International Brotherhood of Electrical workers from molesting the property of the Postal Telegraph company.

The injunction was franted at the prayer of United States District Attorney Wilkerson and is an outgrowth of trouble that developed in the strike of local electrical workers employed by the company. The action of the district attorney in requesting the injunction is said to set a new precedent.

VOTE TO BE CUT BY ONE-THIRD

More than Half of City's Voters Registered when Polls Closed Last Night

The vote in La Crosse will be cut down less than one-third by the requirements of the new registration, according to the estimate of City Clerk E. H. Hoffman today, following the report of yesterday's and this morning's register at the polling places in the city. According to the reports from the twenty-one voting precincts in the city more than half of the vote cast at the last election was registered when the voting booths closed last night and the fair weather of today brought out a large number this morning. It is expected that the heaviest registration will take place shortly before the books are closed at 8 o'clock tonight. But very few women have shown interest enough to register, none having qualified to vote in some of the wards up to noon today.

TO VACCINATE CLERKS

STATE WAR AND NAVY DEPARTMENT EMPLOYES DESCENDED UPON BY PHYSICIANS IN SMALLPOX SCARE

WASHINGTON, March 11. — Ten surgeons of the public health service today invaded the state, war and navy building and vaccinated several hundred men and women employes of the war department as a precaution against small pox, two cases of which have broken out there. At the same time, while the unwilling victims were baring their arms to the physicians, offices in the quartermaster's department were being thoroughly fumigated.

Small pox appeared in the war department last week, when one of the clerks in the quartermaster's department was taken ill and rushed to quarantine. It was reported that he had been infected by operating a typewriter which had been repaired by a mechanic infected with the disease. The second case, that of Edward Peen, was discovered late Monday afternoon.

A close surveillance has been established over the employes to prevent spread of the disease throughout the great building which houses approximately 3,000 employes, including Secretary of State Bryan, Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Secretary of War Garrison.

TRUTH.

CHICAGOAN HAS CURE

WINDY CITY PHYSICIAN IS MAKING PUBLIC TESTS OF PURPORTED TUBERCULOSIS SPECIFIC

CHICAGO, March 11.—Tests of the purported tuberculosis cure of Dr. Peter P. Duket, Chicago physician, were begun today at the Bennet Medical college laboratory before a number of physicians and hospital heads.

For a few days Dr. Duket will receive every patient applying for treatment. The tests will be made under the supervision of Dr. Herzog, former government pathologist for the Philippine Islands. Rev. Father James F. Green, head of the Augustinian order in Chicago, is sponsor for the Duket "cure" and says he has witnessed twelve "cures."

ANTIS PLAY JOKE ON THE MILITANTS

LONDON, March 11.—Traffic in the streets around the headquarters of the women's social and political union today was fairly blocked by delivery wagons and moving vans. In the wagons were tons of coal, pianos, barrel organs, vegetables, whole cases of ginger ale, all manner of furniture, baby buggies, and almost every conceivable object. Investigation showed that anti-suffragists had ordered the merchandise as a joke on the militants.

Four of the militant suffragettes who tried to throw a petition for "Votes for Women" into the royal coach as King George and Queen May passed through the Mall, were today sent to prison for three weeks, and the fourth, who actually threw the roll of paper, was given a four weeks sentence.

CANADIANS RECEIVE FRIEDMANN WELL

Makes Test in Montreal Surrounded by Sympathetic Audience of Physicians

MONTREAL, March 11. — Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann, the discoverer of the turtle bacillus which he says will cure consumption, was given a very hearty welcome today. On his arrival from New York he was greeted at the station by Col. Burland, chief benefactor of the Royal Edward Tuberculosis institute, a free hospital for the care of tubercular patients and escorted to his hotel, where he was greeted by a score of the best known physicians of the city.

The doctor then went direct to the institute where he presided over a clinic in which his cure was administered to a number of patients.

Fifty doctors were present at the clinic and watched carefully as the visiting doctor injected the culture.

This was probably the most friendly audience that Dr Friendmann has encountered since his arrival from Berlin. Most of the doctors present frankly admitted that while they would withhold their judgment predicting the outcome of the experiments they were decidedly hopeful of the result. Their sympathy seemed to impress the doctor, who worked swiftly and carefully in the clinic. All of the doctors sympathized with Friedmann over his unfortunate experiences in New York and he was told if he wanted to remain in Canada he could demonstrate his discovery as fully as he might desire.

BULL PUPS ATTRACT NOTICE IN WINDOW

The playful antics of a litter of nine bull terrier pups in the window of the Bodega Annex are attracting much attention from pedestrians on South Fourth street. Passing persons are attracted by the playful "scraps" of the little dogs, who inherit their fighting tendencies from six generations of pedigreed ancestors. The litter belongs to James Hughes, and both parents are prize winners at the local bench show. The dogs are prettily marked, about half of them being fawn colored, and the rest of the litter brindle. Although the pups were only put in the window yesterday, already five of them have been sold. Local connoisseurs of things canine pronounce the litter to be one of the best they have ever seen.

LOOK COST $100

CHICAGO, March 11.—Like Lot's wife, Dan Brakulich, a saloonkeeper, couldn't resist the temptation to turn his eyes from the wall for a fleeting glimpse of two bandits who robbed him of $136, while counting his cash today. That was against the bandits' orders and it cost Brakulich $100 more. Scorcely had he turned when a bullet whizzed past his head and shattered a big $100 mirror.

Doll Theories.

According to a Japanese belief, dolls sometimes come alive, acquiring a soul in process of being played with by successive generations of children. Food is provided for them, and they are treated with great care, lest neglect should bring trouble upon the household. One pretty story tells how a childless husband and wife borrowed a doll that had gained a soul, fed and clothed it and prospered thereafter.

All this is in utter contrast with the unpleasant doll theory of Varro, the scholar of ancient Rome. He held that the dolls given to little Romans at Christmas—that is to say, at the saturnalia—represented original sacrifices of human beings to the infernal god.

Tumbledown Acapulco.

Acapulco, Mexico, with one of the finest harbors in the world, is one of the most wretched towns in the entire country. It is poorly built, the houses being for the greater part composed of adobe with tiled roofs, while the majority of the poorer class can afford nothing better than rude huts built with poles stuck in the ground, the fronds of the cocoanut palm woven into the sides and the whole thatched. Numerous earthquakes have damaged the buildings, and scattered ruins and cracked walls give the town a wretched appearance. There are no improvements of any kind, no sewers, waterworks, telephone nor electric lights.—Argonaut.

SPEAKS FOR HER MOTHER

North Carolina Lady Writes Interesting Letter Relating Her Mother's Experiences.

Taylorville, N. C.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Stella M. Bowman writes as follows: "My mother was weak and run down, and was in bed for nine weeks. She was not able to do any of her work.

Some lady told her about Cardui, the woman's tonic. She decided to try it, and after taking three bottles, was able to do all of her household work.

You may publish this letter if you wish, as it would be a great pleasure for me to know that I have been of help to some suffering woman."

The best way to relieve womanly troubles, pains, headache, backache, etc., is to help nature, by taking Cardui.

Cardui has not only been found of great assistance in relieving the most serious cases of womanly trouble, but has also proven itself an ideal strength-building tonic, for weak, tired, nervous women.

Cardui is successful, because it is composed of ingredients that act effectively on the womanly constitution, and build up health and strength in a natural manner. It is strictly a woman's medicine—prepared exclusively for women.

Fifty years' success in relieving aches and pains of other weak and ailing women, is a good reason to believe that Cardui should help you, too.

SPLINTER CAUSES MURDEROUS MANIA

PIPESTONE, Minn., March 11.—The pressing of a splinter of wood against his brain is believed to have been responsible for the insane acts of Paul Muller, a young man residing on a farm fifteen miles northwest of Pipestone, when a few weeks ago he attempted to murder the members of his family.

Muller shot his mother five times and then fired several shots at other members of the family before he was overpowered. The young man was taken to the insane hospital at Yankton, where surgeons made an examination of the head and found that a large splinter of wood was lodged against the brain. The splinter was removed and Muller is now said to be recovering his right mind.

Muller's mother has almost entirely recovered from her wounds.

GIRL IS IN COMA FOR FIVE MONTHS

SPOKANE, Wash., March 11.—As a result of overstudy in preparing for a high school examination, 17 year old Irene Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burns, Spokane, has been unconscious for five months, with the exception of half a dozen brief intervals. October 1, the girl was stricken with what was pronounced hysterocatalepsy. Her muscles became rigid, jaws set, and, while her eyes were wide open, to all appearances she was unable to recognize anybody. During her last period of consciousness this week she told physicians that she knew what had been going on about her during the last five months.

WISCONSIN NEWS

HEAD OF BARBER'S BOARD IS REMOVED

MADISON, Wis., March 11.—Gov. McGovern Monday removed Henry Heine, president of the barbers' board. An audit of Heine's accounts on the order of the state board of public affairs showed an alleged shortage of $500. It was also found, according to the auditors, that Mr. Heine had borrowed $100 from the funds of the board on his personal note and had violated the rules in other ways.

The order of removal says, among other things:

"That the said Henry Heine, as a member of such board repeatedly charged and collected in excess of his actual and necessary expenses; that he failed to support his statements of expense with proper receipts; that in such statements of expense he included charges for office work although such work had already been included in other per diem charges for services; and that he neglected to file schedules of inspections made for work done."

WOULD CONNECT LAKE AND RIVER

MADISON, Wis., March 11.—(Special.)—The Wisconsin legislature will be asked to endorse a project for connecting Lake Superior and the Gulf of Mexico for steamboat traffic. More particularly it proposes to canalize the waterways from Lake Superior to the Mississippi river at Prescott, Wis., making it navigable for boats of heavy draft.

Representative H. H. Harrison of Stillwater, Minn., was here yesterday conferring with Wisconsin solons on this project. He was accompanied by Spencer Haven of Hudson, who is preparing a joint resolution, to be introduced by Assemblyman Chinnock and Senator George B. Skogmo of River Falls, memorializing congress to provide funds for carrying out the project. Government engineers surveyed the route of this canal in 1896 and 1903, contemplating a canal seven feet deep and from 80 feet at the base to 150 feet at the surface.

BOB REFUSES TIP FOR LUGGING GRIP

NEW YORK, March 11. — When James S. Throckmorton, a bank cashier of Caldwell, N. J., went to the Union station in Washington to board a train for home he was lugging two heavy suitcases. A stranger assisted him to board the train.

Mr. Throckmorton offered the stranger a cigar, which was declined with a smile.

"Well, remarked the Caldwell man "if I knew your name perhaps I would be better able to thank you."

"O," replied the other, producing a card, "I'm Senator La Follette of Wisconsin."

MADISON ITALIAN MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT

MADISON, Wis., March 11.—Four or five shots, fired in rapid succession at the home of Lin Marselle, an Italian living in Little Italy, brought a horde of Italians running from a nearby dance hall. Marselle was found stumbling about his house with a bullet lodged in his neck.

The police were called and the injured man rushed to St. Mary's hospital, where all efforts to make him talk proved futile. The Italian simply repeated that his assailant shot at him four times before he hit him.

FAMOUS OLD PUG DYING AT OSHKOSH

OSHKOSH, Wis., March 11.—Jim Hall, one time athlete, is now dying in a hovel at the city of Neenah with tuberculosis. Just twenty years ago on Saturday he fought Bob Fitzsimmons for a purse of $40,000 at New Orleans and was knocked out in the fourth round. On a previous occasion Hall had defeated Fitzsimmons in Australia. The attention of the state anti-tuberculosis society has been called to Hall's condition and surroundings and he will be given help.

CHIMNEYS CAUSE FIRES

MADISON, Wis., March 11.—The February fire loss in Wisconsin, according to the monthly report of State Fire Marshal T. M. Purtell, was $215,655, arising from 219 fires. The insurance carried aggregate $620,965. Chimneys were the most prolific fire cause, fifty-four such fires causing damage of $46,685.

HOW A DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION WAS GIVEN THE NAME IT BEARS

Absolute Truth of Story Attested by Guarantee to Give $25,000.00 to Any Charitable Institution if Shown Otherwise.

Father John's Medicine Builds Up the Body and Strengthens System Without Use of Alcohol or Dangerous Drugs.—A Doctor's Prescription. 50 years in Use.

Half a century ago, Rev. Fr. John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., through overwork and exposure, became seriously run down. A cold and stubborn cough and lung trouble threatened his life. An eminent specialist gave Father John a prescription to cure the cold and remove the lung trouble, as well as to build up and strengthen the body. The clergyman began to improve at once, the cough disappeared and his lungs healed. It corrected his digestion, made new tissue, and Father John was soon restored to his former health and strength.

Father John recommended the medicine to his parishioners and friends, and because of its merits it became the family remedy in thousands of homes, and became known as "Father John's Medicine," having been so named by the people, and was advertised, all with the approval of Father John.

It will cure all throat and lung troubles, prevent Consumption, and make flesh and strength if taken faithfully. It is not a patent medicine, and does not contain alcohol or poisonous drugs.

As a guarantee that the story of Father John's Medicine is absolutely true, the sum of $25,000.00 will be given to any charitable institution if it can be shown otherwise.

If you have any difficulty in getting Father John's Medicine from your druggist write to Father John's Medicine, Lowell, Mass., enclosing $1.00 for a large bottle by express prepaid.

APPROVE GORECKI BILL

MADISON, Wis., March 11.—(Special.)—The assembly committee on excise and fees last night reported for passage the Forecki bill prohibiting the sale or giving away of liquor on the grounds or within any parochial school building. The bill was aimed at the correction of an evil in connection with bazaars in certain Polish church schools in Milwaukee.

Health and Beauty Aids

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

A. J. B.: You can have beautiful, long, glossy and fluffy hair of rich, even color if you shampoo carefully at least once every month with any wash that does not contain "free" alkali. Do not use soap. The best, most dependable and really delightful mixture is made by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. This is enough to cleanse both hair and scalp thoroughly of dandruff, dirt and excess oil and the hair dries quickly and evenly with a wonderful gloss and delightful soft fluffiness.

Mrs. M.: Clogging skin with powder is likely to ruin the finest complexion, enlarge pores and produce pimples and blackheads. An economical, home-made spurmax lotion is fine for complexion faults and frequently used instead of powder, as it is invisible when on and imparts a delightful, velvety smoothness and healthy hue to the skin. Get four ounces of spurmax from your druggist and dissolves in a half-pint hot water, to which add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. The spurmax lotion prevents chaps and overcomes oiliness and that lifeless look to the complexion.

Florence: Your pimply skin and run-down feeling is doubtless due to impurities in the blood, which cause most skin eruptions. The best and most effective remedy is this home-made and very inexpensive one: Dissolves one ounce kardene in a half-pint alcohol (not whisky) then add a half cup sugar and enough water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and it will expel poisons from the system, clear and tone skin and build up and strengthen entire body.

Blanche B.: Yes, you can reduce your superfluous flesh without dieting or exercise. Relief may be found in this harmless remedy: Dissolve four ounces parnots in 1½ pints of hot water and take a tablespoonful before meals. It removes fat rapidly and leaves the skin free from wrinkles or flabbiness. It has helped many who have tried for years to find relief.

Mrs. E. P.: It is humiliating to have a fuzzy growth on your chin, but if you will follow these simple directions it will soon vanish: With a little delatone and water make enough paste to cover the hairy surface. Apply and let remain two or three minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and all trace of hair will have vanished. This is a harmless way to banish hair or fuzz and does not mar the skin.

Brae F.: There is only one dandruff cure I recommend and it not only rids the head of dandruff but aids the growth and appearance of the hair. It is, in fact, a perfect quinine tonic which you can make at home. Get an ounce of quinzoin from your druggist. Dissolve in a half-pint of alcohol (not whiskey) to which solution add one-half pint of cold water. Rub into scalp once or twice a week with tips of fingers. It is effective and helps the growth by stimulating scalp to perfectly natural action.

Ruth: I always cure dull, listless, tired, aching eyes by the use of this simple, inexpensive, home-made tonic, which can be prepared very easily by just dissolving an ounce of crystos in a pint of water. Two or three drops placed in each eye, quickly relieves that smarting, burning sensation, reduces inflammation and gives beauty, sparkle and brilliancy to the eyes.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, March 11. — Wheat dipped sharply today on easier Liverpool cables. Expectations that the visible supply of grain at Liverpool will be greatly increased before the end of the week caused the drop. Starting ⅛c under yesterday's close, May wheat declined 1c in the morning trading and July fell off ½c.

Reports of farm reserves looked bearish in the corn pit and corn was easier at noon. Though both May and July opened up ¼c, each had dropped ½c from the opening at noon.

Big farm reserves indicated in yesterday's government report made oats easier today and there was considerable selling. At noon options were from ⅝ to ⅞c off yesterday's close.

Trade in provisions centered largely about May pork. There was a sharp advance at the opening on reports of higher prices from the yards, but at noon May pork was selling but seven cents above yesterday's close. Other provisions were steady, shading lower.

BINGLES FROM THE TRAINING CAMP

MARLIN, Texas, March 11.—It is a tribute to the wise selection of Johnny McGraw that he has lined up two teams that seem so evenly matched that the outcome of practice games is in doubt until the end of the ninth inning. Yesterday the score was 11 to 10 in favor of the regulars. Today, say the yannigans, another tale will be told.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 11.—The New York Americans, under the hand of Frank Chance, are rounding into shape for a series of games with the Jersey City club of the International league. Chance, at first, had struck midseason form.

WACO, Texas, March 11.—A small amount of practice and an enormous amount of talk was the rule in the St. Louis Browns' camp here today. The conversation had to do with the likelihood of the axe beginning to fall within a few days on the unworthy recruits.

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 11.—A steady downpour since Saturday has kept the Naps inside and though there was some letup today it will take until tomorrow for the grounds to get in shape. A game between the Nap regulars and yannigans is scheduled as soon as the deluge is over.

BOILING DOWN OF STATE FIVES IS ON

Two Elimination Tourneys to Be Held at Oshkosh and Menominee This Week

Things are simmering down so that one may see through the mist fairly well what teams will be admitted to the state basketball tourney to be held in Appleton the last week in this month. On the 14th and 15th of this month elimination games will be played with Menominee and Oshkosh as the centers of action. At Menominee eight of the teams that have made the best showing in the state will fight it out to determine the two strongest teams, these teams to be admitted to the final tourney. The schedule for this tournament is as follows:

Thursday Afternoon

No. 1, Ashland vs. Stanley (loser out.

No. 2, Rice Lake vs. Ellsworth (loser out).

Thursday Evening

No. 3, Arcadia vs. Eau Claire or Owen (loser out).

No. 4, Menominee vs. Superior (loser out).

Friday Evening

No. 5, winner of No. 1 vs. winner of No. 2.

No. 6, winner of No. 3 vs. winner of No. 4.

Saturday Evening

No. 7, loser of No. 5 vs. loser of No. 6.

No. 8, winner of 5 vs. winner of No. 6.

The winner of No. 8 will win the championship, the loser second place.

In the Oshkosh tournament all of the teams have not as yet been chosen but these teams are certain of entering the elimination tournament: Antigo, Marinette, Menasha, Oshkosh, Manitowoc and Wausau. The Fond du Lac highs and the Neenah highs were to play on Saturday night the winner to enter, and the Hortonville and West Green Bay teams were to meet on the same night, the winner to enter. The three teams landing in the first three places will be admitted to the tourney.

Janesville in the southern part of the state has already cinched a place in the finals. Janesville appears very strong as their team ran away with all the teams at the Beloit college tournament last week, winning the final game from Baraboo by the score of 45 to 20. The Kenosha highs will meet the Racine team to determine the other entry from the southern part of the state.

In our own section of the state the race for entrance is being waged. The Madison team defeated the Sun Prairie team last Saturday afternoon by the overwhelming score of 53 to 12. They have yet to play the Columbus highs this week and it is not thought that they will have much trouble in doing away with them as Tomah defeated Columbus on Saturday night by the score of 51 to 18. The locals will meet the Tomah highs again on Friday night of this week to determine the other team to enter from this part of the state. This game will probably be played at Sparta although nothing definite has been arranged as there is some difficulty in renting a suitable place in Sparta. The locals were defeated by Tomah early in the season by the score of 22 to 18 but in the return game the locals defeated them by the large score of 35 to 19.

TAMPA, Fla., March 11.—Cub regulars and yannigans will stage their last practice behind closed doors today. For the remainder of the training season, the public will see the scraps. The yans were smothered under a 13 to 1 score yesterday after the old ones had routed Young Toney.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 11.—The White Sox, loaded down with respect for "Rah Rah" college pitchers, arrived from San Francisco for their exhibition game here this afternoon. "Dutch" Reuther, St. Ignatius college southpaw, made Manager Callahan's pets look like "two spots" yesterday, and only a bad Snodgrass by a college fielder allowed the Sox a 4 to 2 victory.

Anyway, the wage worker always has a boss to blame it on.

We would not say that the man who combs his hair over in an efort to hide his bald spot is a liar at heart.

CROSS AFTER RIVERS

NEW YORK, March 11.—Friends of Leach Cross, the New York dentist fighter, are today boosting him for a long distance fight with Mexican Joe Rivers on the coast, following his showing against Joe Mandot at New Orleans last night. Mandot went twenty rounds with the Mexican, but Cross all but put the "Pride of the South" out in the last round of their scheduled ten round bout.
